A contouring cream helps you reduce the appearance of cellulite while a restorative wrap imparts the healing benefits of our signature stone crop ingredient in a relaxing spa treatment.

A collection that reduces stress, smooths and contours skin, and promotes healing from head to toe? Now you're speaking our (body) language!

Why The Spa Does The Body Good

From Cleopatra and her milk baths to the historic hot springs and luxurious spas of Hungary, body treatments have been used since ancient times to renew and replenish the body's largest organ: your skin.

But the benefits of spa body treatments go beyond a head-to-toe glow. A stone crop body treatment unites body, soul – and skin – in harmony. With the nurturing touch of a skilled spa practitioner, here's what a professional body treatment can do for you:

- Improve your circulation
Send more oxygen and nutrients to your cells.
- Stimulate your lymphatic system
Help purify and detoxify your body.
- Release serotonin
Boost your sense of well-being.
- Promote cell regeneration
Make your skin more resilient.
